

Holmen Students Walk Out

Wednesday, 16 February 2011 11:40

The protests are both far and wide today.

This morning at 9:15 am students at Holmen High School staged a walk-out activity to show support for their teachers in light of the potential action on the Budget Repair Bill by the State Legislature. They are walking from Holmen High School to the Village Hall and will return to school. Police and emergency personnel were notified that this action was taking place.

It is expected that students will return to school immediately following their assembly at the Holmen Village Hall. School personnel are assuring a safe transition back into the school day for students.
