

Clean-up Takes Awhile After Interstate Crash

Monday, 11 April 2011 12:08

Clean up was continuing through early this afternoon on the interstate in Onalaska after a semi versus car accident. Apparently one injury in the late morning accident although we have yet to hear of the severity of that injury. The semi appeared to have rear-ended the car. A haz-mat team was called to the scene and east bound I-90 was closed for a time and reduced to one lane each way for a few hours.