

Did the Governor's special session on jobs really focus on jobs? Not to State Senator, Jennifer Shilling.

And for that she gives a grade of incomplete to the special session. No word yet if Governor Scott Walker will call for another special session in December.