

Vinehout Pushes New Notification Bill

Wednesday, 23 November 2011 09:39

Democratic State Senator Kathleen Vinehout says she just learned that currently only a ten day notice is required by Medicaid for families to be dropped off the program. She says that is not enough time to find alternative health insurance. She hopes a new bill she is pushing through will give those families at least a 60 day notice first.

The bill responds to citizens concerned about deep cuts in Medicaid.
