

Where Are Poll Workers Coming From!

Sunday, 27 November 2011 20:34

Graeme Zielinski of the State Democratic Party figures the move by Republicans to use a little know state law that deals with submitting lists of poll workers, has something to do with the new voter I-D law. And he feels the Republicans are pulling out all the stops for elections in 2012. Bill Feehan, Lacrosse County Republican Chair, disagrees though.

Democrats say they will keep letting communities choose their own workers. Republicans, in 2012, are submitting their own lists to city clerks...who by state law, have to use the names on the list. Parties have until Wednesday to submit their lists for next year.
