

If you thought last year was the height of the political spectrum in Wisconsin.....one political professor says you have seen nothing yet.

UW-L Professor Joe Heim says yes a lot of people got election fatigue last year.....he says be prepared because that fatigue may set in a lot earlier than it did last year.