

It was a novel idea decades ago...for State Bank-La Crosse to open a branch on the far south side of the city.

But that Shelby location, south of the railroad overpass, doesn't work as well as it used to:

State Bank vice-president Wayne Oliver says the Shelby location will be moved this summer to the old Quillin's supermarket site on Mormon Coulee Road. A new Goodwill store also is scheduled to open soon on that property. Oliver expects the new State Bank location to open by July, with a remodeled drive-up lane on the lot to be ready in September.
