

La Crosse Fire Chief, Greg Cleveland, is applauding the news that the Department of Military Affairs is scrapping plans to alter the way local hazardous materials teams are funded. He says he saw the plan.

He says the decision to protect funding for local fire departments will help to create stability for businesses, communities and first responders.