

Why spend the time and money to take down men paying for sex? We asked that of La Crosse interim police chief Rob Abraham in the wake of his department's prostitution john bust of five men on Monday, including county board supervisor, Bill Brockmiller. Abraham explains, prostitution is well beyond just a minor crime

Brockmiller, also the local AFL-CIO president, will be in court to face a prostitution solicitation charge on Thursday.