

A UW La Crosse student has confirmed for us that he'll be running for assembly against incumbent Democrat Jennifer Shilling. Julian Bradley, a Republican, says he plans to make an official announcement soon about running for the seat held by Shilling since 2000 but he has every intention of running. The 29 year-old Bradley currently works for CenturyLink in La Crosse and lists a stint as an intern with the McCain-Palin campaign on his resume.