

Major Heroin Dealer Going To Prison

Friday, 07 December 2012 13:49

A significant heroin dealer in Monroe County, in the words of District Attorney Dan Cary, is going away to prison. 33 year old Kelly Talsky of Sparta was given a 4 year prison sentence today in Monroe County court. Talsky was also sentenced with six years of extended supervision once she's released.

Cary says Talsky was convicted of felony conspiracy to deliver heroin in an amount greater than 50 grams, as a drug repeater.

Cary hopes the sentence will send a clear message to those who would further contaminate the community by making illicit drugs available for sale, that this conduct will be dealt with harshly.