

Dispatch Center Ready For More Snow

Thursday, 27 December 2012 11:51

Between tonight and tomorrow, forecasters are calling for one to 4 inches of new snow. Now we don't expect the monotony that last week's snow caused the area....though the La Crosse County dispatch center will once again be ready.

\(Click for Audio\)

Communications supervisor, Mike Thompson, says whenever there's snow in the forecast, the dispatch center is ready for the accidents, slide off 's and car abandonment calls they usually get.