

Last month, the Bangor School District sent out a letter to parents and guardians asking for their help in providing input and ideas that would promote the district and the Bangor area in general as a destination district/community for families and educators. Superintendent Dave Laehn (LANE) says it's all about growing the district.

\(Click for Audio\)

In essence, the district is asking community members, business people, teachers and students for their ideas on how to market the area. Thoughts and ideas will hit the table at a public meeting being held on January 30th.