

Should be some interesting conversation at the Onalaska City Council next week as prayer before meetings will be a highlight of the meeting. Councilman, Eric Sjolander says he's talked to constituents about the matter.

\(Click for Audio\)

The Onalaska city council will consider the proposal at it's meeting Tuesday night. One other option being looked is a moment of silence of reflection before the meetings.