

WE Energies Wants New Pipeline

Tuesday, 19 February 2013 10:06

We Energies says it will file an application for a new $150 million facility in western Wisconsin in the next few months and the state Public Service Commission would then pick a final route for an 80 mile gas line. If approved, construction could begin around the end of next year. Spokesman, Brian Manthey.

\(Click for Audio\)

We Energies has chosen two possible routes for the gas line from the Fairchild area in Eau Claire and Jackson counties, south to Tomah.