

Treating bass like kings and queens. That's how the fish caught during the BASSMASTERS ELITE tour are treated all four days of the tourney. Noreen Clough is a Conservation Director hired by BASS to come along on the fishing tour stops.

\(Click for Audio\)

She says it's almost a science to keep the bass alive while they are weighed in and released back into area waters, A process approved by the DNR and the FDA.