A young La Crosse guy could be on the hook for repairs to more than a dozen cars. Police say 21 year-old Ryan Hammes was peeved that he caught his girlfriend kissing on a another guy and took out his anger on the side mirrors of at least 14 cars parked in the area around Chuck's bar on La Crosse street at about two on Sunday morning. Cops found Hammes standing on the sidewalk outside of the bar. They say he was pretty drunk at the time.
