

Caregiver Arrested for Theft

Wednesday, 25 August 2010 09:03

You get some home care for your elderly father, you probably don't expect him to get ripped off in the process. Police say 40 year-old Lisa Wilchinski stole checks from a 90 year old La Crosse guy she was hired to take care of. They say the Onalaska woman wrote herself over a thousand bucks in checks on the elderly guy's account. Apparently, she also used his credit card to get herself a nice new ring. She denies any theft. Tells cops she got hush money from the 90 year-old because he groped her and didn't want her to tell anybody about it.