

Bill Would Create Study for Universal Pensions

Thursday, 20 February 2014 14:41

Pensions for everyone? Certainly not the reality now. But it could be. A new bill would allow for the study of starting a defined benefit plan for just about anyone in Wisconsin

\(Click for Audio\)

Helen Marks Dicks with the Wisconsin AARP, which supports the plan. Similar studies are going on currently in Oregon and California.