

Woman Falls Out Car Window During Apparent Drunken Ride

Monday, 21 July 2014 08:21

An apparent joyride in the Chatfield area ended on Saturday, with a passenger falling out of the car.

The woman reportedly was riding in the front window of a car going the speed limit on Highway 52 when she fell out. Saralyn Squillace of Rochester had minor injuries. The state patrol says three people were in the car, and all apparently had been drinking. Neither of the other two persons will admit to who was driving. Their names will not be released by the state patrol until Tuesday morning.
