

Gundersen Health System's up front payment system may give patients some choices. Not just on how to pay the part of the bill they're responsible for, Gundersen CFO Micheal Allen says, but also on what procedure might work better financially

\(Click for Audio\)

Gundersen is collecting up-front payments in part to deal with millions in uncollected medical bills every year. Last year it was $23 million.