

Local Faces Drug Charges in Two Jurisdictions

Tuesday, 19 October 2010 09:57

A La Crosse guy faces potential trials in state and federal courts for meth. La Crosse Police have charged Larry Bailey for manufacturing and dealing methamphetamine. He was originally arrested last month but apparently wasn't playing ball with cops so, on Friday, they rounded up the 37 year-old and put him behind bars. Besides the local charges, Bailey's been told he's also close to an indictment on federal drug charges.
