

Holmen Home Invasions

Monday, 13 December 2010 12:47

Before the term "home invasion" came in use, the term "hot burglary" was often used in literature. In that case....it has been quite hot in the Village of Holmen lately. Several home invasions have taken place.

Holmen Police Chief Mike McHugh says they have also experienced several attempted home invasions as well. They are taking place at night and in the early morning when people are home. Even this past weekend while it was snowing! The bold perp is stealing purses, briefcases and cash.

McHugh says do not attempt to collar the thieves.....just call 911
