

City of Lacrosse Elves??

Friday, 17 December 2010 09:20

City of La Crosse employees are showing the true spirit of the holiday season by donating toys, gifts and gift certificates to families in need this holiday season. Earlier this fall members of the City of La Crosse Human Resources Department contacted the School District of La Crosse to get a list of students and families that could use some extra support this holiday season. Since then, the pile of gifts has turned to a mountain in the Human Resources office.

Yesterday, members of the district's student support services staff collected those donations from the City of La Crosse Human Resources Office and prepared them for distribution to families.

Over 100 employees took part playing the role of elves.
