

Perren Could Be Committed For Sex Acts

Monday, 27 December 2010 12:43

A La Crosse area man will NOT be released from prison tomorrow...because the state of Wisconsin wants him to be committed as a sexual predator.

Fifty-year-old Homer Perren Junior is considered 'sexually violent' by the state justice department. Perren is finishing a 10-year prison term for the sexual assault of a child back in 2000. The state claims that Perren has a mental condition which makes him likely to commit sexual crimes again, once he's out of prison. A hearing on Perren's commitment is scheduled for next week, before La Crosse County Judge Elliott Levine.
