

One of the many condemned buildings after a Sunday afternoon storm in La Crosse? The city's Green Island Ice Arena near Gundersen Lutheran. The building was damaged in the storm, has been condemned and now is shut down, the city's parks department says, until further notice. Many other homes and businesses have been condemned and emergency workers spent much of Monday refusing to let people in to retrieve their belongings from those places that had been severely damaged by the storm. Besides canceling all the indoor activities at Green Island, the parks department has also relocated all outdoor activities as well.
