

Short Trip to Jail for Onalaska Woman

Tuesday, 31 May 2011 15:07

It's always more convenient for police to make an arrest near a jail. So, a quick note of thanks is probably in order for 23 year-old Jasmine Herod. Arrested this week-end in La Crosse in the parking lot just south of the jail building downtown. Busted after a witness said the drunken Herod punched her man in the face, tossed her shoes in the street and, generally, was making a big ruckus at around 3:30 in the morning. In an argument with her fella, police say over whether to drive home to Onalaska or take a cab.