

Five Suspects Jailed Now In Local Drug Death

Monday, 08 August 2011 20:37

The count is now four people accused of hiding a man who died of drug use...and one person accused of supplying the drug.

The alleged supplier, Andrew Seekamp, could be charged later this week for contributing to the death of 40-year-old Anthony Ducharme. Judge Scott Horne imposed a 250-thousand dollar bond for Seekamp. Also in court on Monday...Patrick Valiquette, the latest person suspected of trying to hide Ducharme's body near a north La Crosse park.
