

Body Found In Onalaska Identified

Thursday, 22 September 2011 14:46

The body found in Onalaska today has been identified as 29 year old Tomah resident Malcolm Forbes. Forbes was initially identified as missing by Green Bay Police and then on September 3rd the Tomah Police Department asked surrounding jurisdictions to be on the lookout for Forbes.

Onalaska Investigator Pete Jakowski was following up at an apartment on Well Street which was the last location where Forbes was allegedly seen. When no one answered the door, Jakowski began checking the surrounding area. That's when he located the body hanging in a wooded area next to the apartment complex. Forbes had been identified as missing endangered because of reports that he was despondent and possibly suicidal.

His body was transported by the Medical Examiner to Hastings Minnesota, where an autopsy will be performed to determine cause of death.
