

Guy Smashes Wrong Windshield

Monday, 21 November 2011 13:34

A La Crosse guy has a bill to pay for a broken windshield after this week-end. It was, unfortunately for him, the wrong windshield. Police say the 33 year-old jumped on an occupied car in the Jay street parking lot, smashing the windshield, thinking he was getting back at the people who had messed with his girlfriend's car. Wrong people, wrong car. Nobody hurt, guy admits his mistake, pledges to pay for the damage, got a ticket from police. Still looking to pounce on the right car.
