

Local companies stand to pick up some business, based on what the La Crosse city council does in the coming month.

The council is deciding whether to limit tow companies on the city's 'wrecker of the week' list to just those based in La Crosse. Which is only what other cities and villages do already, says Craig Redenbaugh with Craig's Towing in La Crosse

If the change is approved by the council, those companies getting one week rotations as 'wrecker of the week' would go from nine to about five.
