

Miller Gets First Opponent For Senate Race

Monday, 05 December 2011 09:04

Minnesota State senators serve four year terms, but all state legislators will stand for election in 2012 because of redistricting. One of those is Jeremy Miller of Winona. He was elected to the 31st senate seat in 2010.....and he has his first opponent, real estate agent, Jack Krage. Miller tells WIZM news his focus is not on reelection. So what is your focus?

The Republican Miller narrowly beat DFL'er Sharon Erickson Ropes in 2010 for the seat.
