

Suspicious Activity May Be Linked to Burglary in Onalaska

Thursday, 05 January 2012 15:06

Just before 1, today an Onalaska resident getting his mail noticed three suspicious people walking along the tree line near his home in the Oak Park addition. When the resident asked the three men what they were doing they ran toward a vehicle. The vehicle, a 1996 maroon Dodge Intrepid, had Kansas license plates 409 ECC.

The three men, two white and one black, may be linked to a forced entry burglary that occurred on Birch Street earlier today.

The Onalaska Police Department is telling residents to not approach these men and is asking that anyone seeing the vehicle to contact Dispatch. Anyone noticing suspicious activity in their neighborhood is advised to contact the Onalaska Police Department immediately.
