

Man Kicks Cop After Bar Beat Down

Monday, 06 February 2012 18:12

Still some questions about how a guy was treated after a ruckus in a downtown La Crosse bar last week. Police say 26 year-old Peter Spencer got a little out of control in the bar, was doing roundhouse kicks on the dance floor, rushed the DJ, and finally was corralled by bouncers. A witness said those bouncers appeared to go way over the top in subduing Spencer. But Spencer didn't make it easy for himself, either, especially after he kicked an officer on the way to a squad car, leading to a much more serious charge than the one he was facing for the bar scuffle. Spencer was booked into jail after getting released from the hospital this week-end.