

Hearings Start On New Justice Center

Tuesday, 20 March 2012 09:09

Monroe County is serious this time. They want to move forward with a new jail and courthouse and public hearings begin tonight on the matter. They begin at the Little Falls Town Hall tonight and will be held in towns like Cashton, Sparta, Tomah and Wilton until the end of the month. All in an effort to answer questions regarding the Monroe County Justice Center referendum that appears April 3rd.
