

No Burning In Bergen Or Stoddard

Thursday, 05 April 2012 11:46

Cookouts will be allowed in Stoddard for Easter weekend, but other outdoor burning in the village is banned until further notice.

The Stoddard-Bergen Fire Department has declared an outdoor fire ban for that area because of the continuing dry weather. The one exception will be for charcoal grills at private homes, and the grills have to be on surfaces like concrete that won't catch on fire.
