

Tomah's Mayor will retain that title...though a recount there yesterday made things real interesting. John Rusch defeated challenger Shannon Hough by just five votes last Tuesday. Hough requested a recount, which was done Wednesday. After the recount Rusch defeated Hough by only 3 votes. Rusch says it's now business as usual as he is working to develop city council committee assignments. He says he looks forward to continuing his work to help Tomah provide quality public services at a low cost.

Hough says she plans to run for mayor again in the next election two years from now.
