

Chamblis Will Be Tried For Lunchtime Beating In Jail

Wednesday, 18 April 2012 11:59

One of the two men charged last week in a jailhouse beating in La Crosse is now headed to trial...

A county jailer testified today that he saw Andre Chamblis hitting fellow prisoner Jessop Maas from behind, while a third man also threw punches at Maas. Chamblis was already in jail on a drunk driving charge, and now he's accused of battery by a prisoner. The other alleged attacker, Kenneth Jackson, has been unable to find a lawyer for the case.