

Burn Bans Continue

Monday, 05 April 2010 03:15

The LaCrosse area finally saw some rain over the past few days. But, not enough to lift any of the burn bans in place throughout the county. Dry and windy conditions have left most of the county at risk for fires to spring up. Last week local firefighters were busy fighting a number of brush fires.