

Food Stolen from Pantry

Monday, 05 April 2010 15:33

Stealing is bad. Stealing food from the hungry. Now that's really bad. The WAFER food pantry in La Crosse is out roughly five hundred pounds of frozen food that was supposed to be donated to the hungry in the area. Five hundred pounds of meats and pizza, fish and shrimp are gone from a freezer at WAFER. They think it might have been an inside job.
