

La Crosse police say they've got a thieving stripper at large. They say the 25 year-old woman was contacted by a fellow putting together a bachelor party for his friend. She goes by Randi or Lacey Daily. The guys found her online and she was advertising "sugar and spice and everything nice." But when Randi showed for the party she collected her hundred dollar fee and left in the same taxi she came in. No sugar, no spice and no stripping. When they find Randi, they'll get her for theft and probably for breaking the new city rule requiring an escort license. That's a 13 hundred dollar fine.