

Some students will travel to our nation's capitol this summer...mostly for vacations. But for Rachel Carboni, an 8th grade student at Lincoln Elementary in La Crosse, her trip is not about vacationing...it's about winning a nationwide writing contest. Her statewide winning topic?

An 8th grader writing about the man who discovered The Miracles, The Supremes, Marvin Gaye and The Jackson 5?

Carboni, who plays the guitar, will travel to Washington, DC from June 11th to the 14th. She will present her paper to a panel of judges and answer questions on her topic.
