

The advantage goes to which political party? That's a question about last week's supreme court decision on federal health care overhauls that has yet to be answered. La Crosse democratic party chair, Vicki Burke says her party should do well with the victory. Because it benefits all Americans

But republicans are hoping the unpopularity of the individual insurance mandate will result in democratic losses and the end of the Obama presidency.