La Crosse Police are investigating a sexual assault of an elderly southside La Crosse woman. It happened about 3am on June 26th.

Police say while the woman slept in a recliner, a man removed a screen to her apartment, climbed in and sexually assaulted her. Officers used dogs to pick up the scent but lost it at the river backwaters behind Seminary and Woodbridge Court.

The only description the woman could give police was a large male. WIZM news is not releasing the woman's name, age or location where the assault occurred.
