

Two Days, Two Bicyclists Down

Tuesday, 20 April 2010 10:45

For the second time in two days, a bicyclist has been clipped by a car in an intersection in La Crosse. Sunday, it was a woman by UWL who ran over a guy she didn't see. Someone had to yell at her to let her know she was dragging the guy under her car. On Monday, another car, another intersection. This time, it was a 26 year-old guy plowing over a girl on her bike by the post office. Both drivers were ticketed for the collisions.
