

If you drive on Losey Boulevard late this afternoon, you might see a couple of guys holding big boots along the street.

They're firemen raising money for the muscular dystrophy campaign. La Crosse firefighter Todd English says the 'Fill the Boot' drive has gone on for enough years that people know what it's about by now. The annual boot campaign in La Crosse began yesterday, collecting about $3000. The overall goal is $15,000. Volunteers will be out again at Losey and State Road, and Mormon Coulee and Losey...4 to 6:30 Friday, and 1 to 3:30 pm Saturday.
