

Body Found In Burned Car In Monroe County

Wednesday, 19 September 2012 10:19

The Monroe County Sheriff's Department is investigating a car fire that occurred off of county highway T in the township of Ridgeville and a body that was inside. The car fire was reported to the Monroe County 911 Communications Center around 8 a.m. Tuesday morning.

When firefighters arrived the car was fully engulfed in flames. As firefighters were extinguishing the blaze they saw a human body in the car. Investigators from the Monroe County Sheriff's Department and the Wisconsin Division of Criminal Investigation, along with the State Crime Lab, were called to the scene.

The human body has not yet been identified.
