

Monroe County Leans Against Homicide

Tuesday, 25 September 2012 10:09

Monroe County Sheriff, Pete Quirin, says his department is leaning away from the dead body found in a burning car last week being a homicide.

The woman's body was found last Tuesday in the Town Of Ridgville.....after firefighters had put the flames out. They know the car was from Minnesota and do not believe the owner had anything to do with the death.
