

The second annual Wisconsin Science Festival begins today. It's headquartered at the Wisconsin Institutes for Discovery at U-W Madison. Workshops, films, lectures, and other presentations are planned throughout Madison and in several Wisconsin cities through Sunday. Christina Knudsen, Project & Volunteer Director at the La Crosse Children's museum says they are making it easy enough for the museum to be transformed into your home.

\(Click for Audio\)

Children's museums in Milwaukee, Eau Claire, and Eagle River will have events –along with the Pewaukee Public Library and the U-W campus in Fond du Lac.