

Another Suspect In 'Get Money Boys' Holdup Comes To Court

Wednesday, 28 November 2012 22:07

Cash bond is set at 25-hundred dollars for an alleged member of the 'Get Money Boys' gang...

Du Juan Jackson is charged with armed robbery and burglary. The 18-year-old Jackson returned to La Crosse and turned himself in on Tuesday, a few days after a warrant was issued for his arrest. Defense attorney Russell Hammer claims the evidence does not place Jackson at the crime scene. Jackson and two other young men are charged with an October robbery at an apartment on 5th Avenue South in La Crosse. The other two have court hearings on Thursday.